COLLECTION NOTE

This collection includes interviews with 38 Western Kentucky University Libraries faculty, staff, and administrators about their work in the university's libraries from the 1950s to 2013. Each interview includes information about the individual's particular role within the library, the evolution of the libraries, and significant projects in which they were involved. All interviews were conducted at the university. Lisa Karen Miller, the interviewer for this project, was born in Scottsville, Kentucky. She received degrees from Western Kentucky University, University of Arizona, and Northern Arizona University. Miller was employed in the WKU Libraries Department of Public Services when this project was executed.

These interviews are archived in the WKU Sound Archives in digital format only.
